Scorpius Borut Lesjak (inž. računalništva.) 2020 Ink by Star is a series of whisperings voiced from self-love and offered as a genuine embrace from the heart of the author. Translated from star to ink, the short vignettes express the soul, evoke insights of healing and compassion, and reflect on the personal life of Lesjak. These word-lights are invitations to gather around a sacred fire of connection. Originating directly from Lesjak's own process of becoming human, they tender plain and pragmatic encouragement for others to ignite their own healing flame.

Sacred Beat Patricia Telesco 2003-06-01 The beat is universal drumming as a way of communicating with other people, spirits, and self exists around the world and throughout time. And contemporary drumming is thriving! In the neopagan community, the most popular festivals and workshops are those that feature drumming circles. In healing centers, nursing homes, women's centers, and schools across the country, people are forming drumming circles. Sacred Beat honors and explores every aspect of drumming historical, contemporary, practical. In Part I, Telesco and Waterhawk tell the history of drums and drumming circles and the myths, superstitions, and religions that have grown up around drumming. From West Africa to Tibet, from Siberia to England, from Vietnam to Apache territory, where Fox gave the people drums along with fire come stories about drums, their invention, their use up until contemporary times. People respond almost universally and profoundly to drums to relieve stress, to communicate, to move in rhythm with the universe, to praise their gods. A comprehensive section of practical information follows, with ideas for finding a drum and other rhythmic tools that are right for your vision, caring for and decorating your instrument, drum etiquette, and elements of a good drum circle. The next section of Sacred Beat is all about drumming in groups different ways it's being done, from Native American PowWows to Goddess gatherings to community centers, and how to become a part of it. The book closes with a section on creating drumming magic all your own, with meditations, prayers, and divinations to create overall wellbeing and spiritual awareness with drums. The voice of the drum combines with the voice of the Ancestors, the voice of Spirit, and the voice of our own soul to create a powerful and transformational partnership. By working with the drum, a person can support this partnership, reach out to the community, touch the earth, and nurture their own spirit.

When Walls Shift and the Ceiling Collapses R. Robert Cueni 2012 "Pride has an insidious quality. It germinates a healthy self-confidence. Then, if left to grow, unchecked and unexamined, it spreads and transforms into the worship of self... Pride deludes us into thinking we are God's equal. "-- from the chapter "Pride is a Noxious Weed in the Garden of Life" In this collection of sermons for the final weeks of the Revised Common Lectionary, Cycle C, Pentecost 3, prepared by R. Robert Cueni, the reader will find the common theme of "living through difficult times of maximal change." In "When Walls Shift and the Ceiling Collapses," Cueni lets the text shape the sermon in some cases, while in others, lets the assigned gospel reading serve as a springboard for moving in a different direction. These messages may be helpful in a variety of ways: - Commentary and illustrations - Group or individual Bible study - Weekly personal devotions Sermon titles included in this volume are: - The Joy of a Thankful Heart - Pride is a Noxious Weed in the Garden of Life - "Gotcha" Questions from Mean-Spirited People R. Robert Cueni is a retired Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) pastor. He holds degrees from Bethany College, Bethany Virginia (2001); San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Francisco, California (1979); Christian Theological Seminary, Indianapolis, Indiana (1971); and Kent State University, Kent, Ohio (1964). His other CSS titles include "The Transforming Power of a Changed Perspective" (2003), "Questions of Faith for Inquiring Believers" (2002), "Tenders of the Sacred Fire" (1995), and "It Was a Day Like This" (1977). In his retirement, he is studying Spanish, and also enjoys golf -- at a skill level that makes his companions feel good about "their" games. Cueni resides in Lexington, Kentucky, with his wife. They have two daughters and four grandchildren.

Poems to Siva Indira Viswanathan Peterson 2014-07-14 Composed by three poet-saints between the sixth and eighth centuries A.D., the Tevaram hymns are the primary scripture of the Tamil Saivism, one of the first popular large-scale devotional movements within Hinduism. Indira Peterson eloquently renders into English a substantial portion of these hymns, which provide vivid and moving portraits of the images, myths, rites, and adoration of Siva and which continue to be loved and sung by the millions of followers of the Tamil Saiva tradition. Her introduction and annotations illuminate the work's literary, religious, and cultural contexts, making this anthology a rich sourcebook for the study of South Indian popular religion. Indira Peterson highlights the Tevaram as a seminal text in Tamil cultural history, a synthesis of pan-Indian and Tamil civilization, as well as a distinctly Tamil expression of the love of song, sacred landscape, and ceremonial religion. Her discussion of this work draws on her pioneering research into the performance of the hymns and their relation to the art and ritual of the South Indian temple. Originally published in 1989. The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print-on-demand technology to again make available previously out-of-print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press. These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions. The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905.

Tenders of the Sacred Fire Robert Cueni 1995

These sermons are based on First Lesson lectionary texts for the first third of the Season after Pentecost, Cycle A. These sermons are based on First Lesson lectionary texts for the first third of the Season after Pentecost, Cycle A. [Bob Cueni's] preaching meets the unspoken criteria most pew residents bring to a church sanctuary: 1) biblically rooted, 2) easy to understand, 3) tells me something about myself that I feel God wants me to know, and 4) encourages me to believe that I can apply this truth to my life.... His communication style evokes the highest praise pulpits residents can give their peers: "That will preach!" Herb Miller Lubbock, Texas Sermon titles include: The Risky Business of Faith (Genesis 12:1-9) When Life Doesn't Go According to Plan (Genesis 21:8-21) Don't Sell Your Inheritance for Cabbage Soup (Genesis 25:19-34) Robert Cueni is senior pastor of Country Club Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), a 3,000 member congregation in Kansas City, Missouri. This Tender Place Laurie Lawlor 2007-01-23
After the deaths of her father and father-in-law, Laurie Lawlor discovers an unlikely place for healing and transformation in a wetland in southeastern Wisconsin—a landscape of abundant and sometimes inaccessible beauty that has often been ignored, misunderstood, and threatened by human destruction. In her decade-long personal wetland journey, she examines the sky, delves underwater, and peers between sedges in all seasons and all times of day. This Tender Place is a celebration of nature, the elements, and humanity. From the wetland's genesis during the ice age to its survival in the twenty-first century, Lawlor chronicles the universal ties among people, wild places, and healthy wetlands. An engaging and deeply intimate record, This Tender Place is at its heart a story of refuge and renewal refracted through the lens of life within the wetlands—one of the most productive, yet most endangered, ecosystems in the world.

Preaching with Sacred Fire: An Anthology of African American Sermons, 1750 to the Present

Martha Simmons 2010-08-16 One hundred sermons that display the victorious, although sometimes painful, historical and spiritual pilgrimage of black people in America. A groundbreaking anthology, Preaching with Sacred Fire is a unique and powerful work. It captures the stunning diversity of the cultural and historical legacy of African American preaching more than three hundred years in the making. Each sermon, as editors Martha Simmons and Frank A. Thomas reveal, is a work of art and a lesson in unmatched rhetoric. The journey through this anthology—which includes selections from Jarena Lee, Frederick Douglass, Malcolm X, Martin Luther King Jr., Gardner C. Taylor, Vashti McKenzie, and many others—offers a rare view of the unheralded role of the African American preacher in American history. The collection provides new insights into the underpinnings of the black fight for emancipation and the rise and growth of the Civil Rights and Black Power movements. Sermons from the first decade of the twenty-first century point toward the future of African American preaching. Biographies of the preachers put their work in the cultural and homiletic context of their periods. The preachers of these sermons are men and women from a range of faiths, ancestries, and educational backgrounds. They draw on a vast and luminous landscape of poetic language, using metaphor, rhythm, and imagery to communicate with their congregations. What they all have in common is hope, resilience, and sacred fire. “Even during the most difficult and oppressive times,” Simmons and Thomas write in the preface, “the delivery, creativity, charisma, expressivity, fervor, forcefulness, passion, persuasiveness, poise, power, rhetoric, spirit, style, and vision of black preaching gave and gives hope to a community under siege.” This magnificent work beautifully renders the complexity, spiritual richness, and strength of African American life. Dancing The Fire Marian Singer 2005 This Pagan author and expert helps readers decide which gatherings are the right ones for their needs and explains how to make the most from attending them. Organized by state, this volume lists more than 80 major festivals in the U.S. and Canada.
